W.K. Kellogg Estate

The grounds of the W.K. Kellogg Estate are open year round for visitors to walk from dawn to dusk. If a private event is in progress, please respect the guests' privacy. Conference guests, students and visiting researchers are in residence year round in the apartments, cottages, and dorms. Self-guided brochures for the Estate with information on buildings and plantings are available at the Manor House or McCrary Dining Hall.

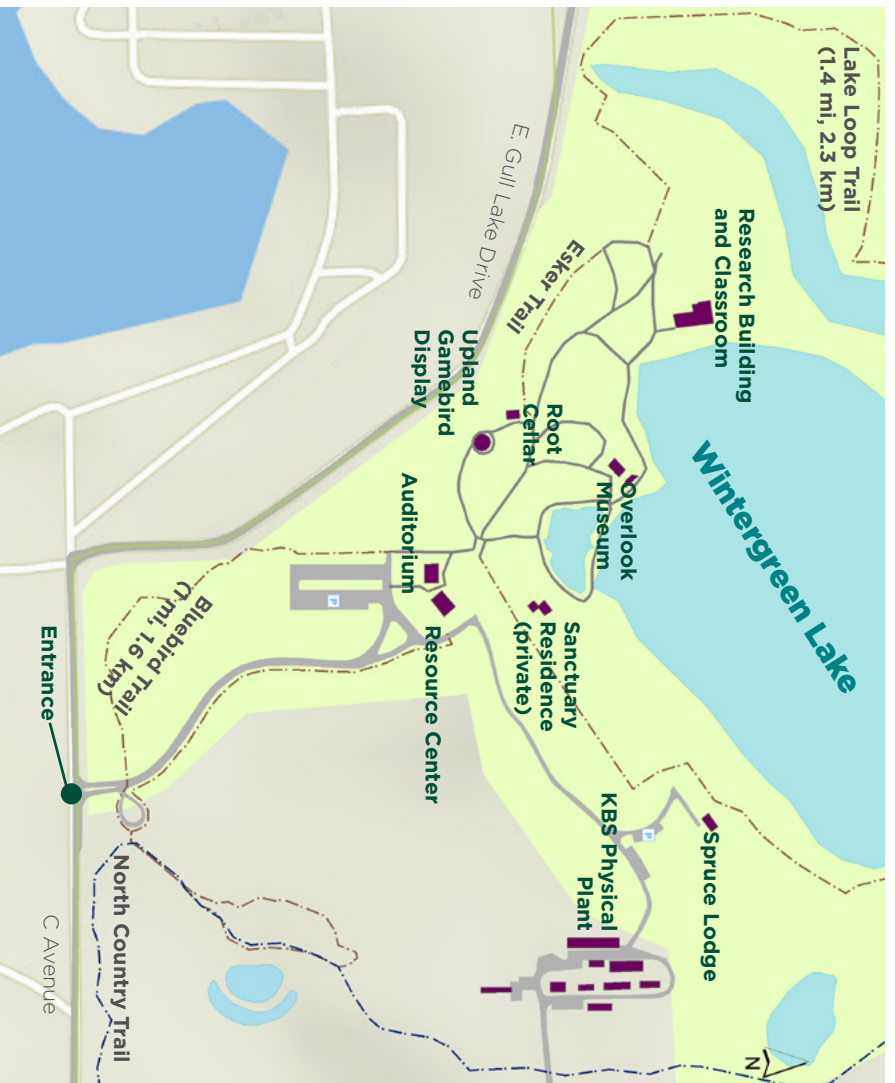

Visit conference.kbs.msu.edu to learn more.

W.K. Kellogg Bird Sanctuary

The Sanctuary is open year round and offers a picnic area, a native pollinator garden and the opportunity to see captive and wild waterfowl, birds of prey and game birds along the trails surrounding Wintergreen Lake. The garden paths and most paved portions of the trails are wheel chair accessible and stroller friendly. MSU students and KBS Conference Center users receive free admission during their stay.

Trails of the W.K. Kellogg Biological Station

Welcome to KBS! We invite you to explore the KBS campus, but keep in mind that research occurs in many of these areas. The public is welcome on trails from dawn to dusk; but please avoid private events. Areas without trails are closed to the public, except for guided tours or special events. Cross-country skiing and snowshoeing are welcome; motorized vehicles, including snowmobiles, are prohibited on all KBS properties. Please see Table for trail-specific information regarding access with dogs and/or bikes.

Please help keep our trails safe by leashing dogs and cleaning up after them. Let us know about areas that need maintenance: info@kbs.msu.edu. Enjoy the trails!
